

BOLLORÉ LOGISTICS CHILE INAUGURATES ITS NEW LOGISTICS DISTRIBUTION CENTER

In January 2021, Bolloré Logistics Chile inaugurated its new logistics distribution center at the "Bodenor Flex Center", located in the Enea industrial park (Pudahuel community), 5 kilometers from Arturo Merino Benítez International Airport in Santiago de Chile. This new 8,000 square meter infrastructure has high safety standards, state-of-the-art technology and a service of excellence. With this significant milestone, Bolloré Logistics Chile seeks to enhance its offer to its customers and strengthen the e-commerce segment.

Bolloré Logistics Chile's new logistics distribution center has specialized in the Telecommunications and High-Tech industries with the priority of maximizing care in the handling, transfer, and monitoring of high-value cargo. In addition, it has a dedicated area and a specialized team in e-commerce logistics solutions, acquiring multi-channel platforms to connect its WMS (Warehouse Management System) and TMS (Transport Management System) systems with different marketplaces, helping the company's customers to quickly implement their online sales.

This new warehouse center also has the highest standards of quality, customer service, and security equipment coordinated by qualified personnel. As part of its security system it features in particular fully armored gates, closed circuit television (CCTV) with facial recognition, motorized domes, video analytics, reading and registration of patents, radio communication systems with coverage throughout the industrial park.

"With a service of excellence and a high-quality team of people and professionals, this new logistics distribution center of Bolloré Logistics Chile meets the highest standards by our customers, which are big multinational companies, and at a global level," commented Hector Midolo, CEO Latin America of Bolloré Logistics.
